The Arlington Historical Commission held a public hearing on Tuesday, May 1, 2018 to review proposals for changes to the house at 96 Jason Street.

The Commission reviewed the plans presented including changes to windows and new porch.

Commissioners discussed the plan to replace existing windows with Marvin Ultimate Magnum series.

Patrick Guthrie made a motion to approve the plans as submitted with the change that the sash will be wood with simulated divided light with materials as indicated in the plans.

Dianne Schaefer will be the monitor. Ended at 8:26pm.

b. 8:30pm 32 Kensington Road with Lindsey Baron, Lloyd Baron, Daniel Steger, architect; Bob Tanner (37 Kensington) Sid Slobodkin (24 Kensington).

The Arlington Historical Commission held a public hearing on Tuesday, May 1, 2018 to review proposals for changes to the house at 32 Kensington Road.

The Commission reviewed the plans presented by Daniel Steger. The Commission approved the plans by a unanimous vote.

Comments from neighbors: approval for project.

Patrick Guthrie made a Motion to accept plans as submitted. 2nd Dianne Schaefer. All in favor.

Ended at 8:50am. Monitor- Patrick Guthrie

9:00 Informal Hearing with David Levy for 81 Hillside Avenue. Planning to purchase. The exterior of the house is in good shape, but will be planning a complete interior change

Plans:

All the windows are original... some are missing sashes, some windows are totally gone.

Restoration plans for the windows.

Back porch is not original railings and posts

Kitchen is in the darkest point of the house. To add more light want to expand out to the porch. South facing.

North side of the house. Side profile may be some changes to the windows on the 2nd floor for bathroom renovations. Window configurations on the outside may change due to interior changes.

Kitchen mud room.

Restore windows and retain storms is preferred.

Repair to front porch. Would love to find an original photo.

New Business:

CPA grant to look at 1 Whittemore Park. Consultant and public meetings are planned to improve the landscape of the park itself.

Old Business: No hearing required for Solar panel on 26 Franklin Street.

The Arlington Historical Commission adjourned at 9:43pm.

The next Arlington Historical Commission meeting will be June 5, 2018 at 7:45pm.

For the Arlington Historical Commission, Victoria Rose, Recording Secretary.
